5th Congress on Nursing Research of Ibero-American and Portuguese-speaking Countries with an International Evidence Based Health Care Symposium

UICISA: E, hosted by the Nursing School of Coimbra, will hold its biennial scientific event in June 2016 - the 5th Congress on Nursing Research of Ibero-American and Portuguese-speaking Countries (June 7th and 8th). This year, the event will be enriched by the integration of the International Evidence Based Health Care Symposium (June 6th).

The 5th Congress on Nursing Research fits into the UICISA: E strategic axis which is oriented towards the international dissemination of relevant and valid scientific production for healthcare professionals' training and healthcare improvement. Considering the importance and relevance of the study and implementation of Evidence-based Action, we added a Symposium in order to share experiences and results of synthesis science, implementation, care effectiveness, and innovation.

The JBI 20th Anniversary Conference 'The Ripple Effect: Influencing global health since 1996' – Call for Abstracts

The JBI invites you to submit an abstract for an oral or poster presentation for the 20th Anniversary Conference themed 'The Ripple Effect: Influencing global health since 1996'.

This event seeks to link theory to practice and past to future, celebrating what makes JBI unique as well as celebrating the past and taking us towards a bright future.

Presenters are invited to submit from all health disciplines (surgery, nursing, midwifery, medicine, physiotherapy, podiatry, dentistry, speech pathology, diagnostic imaging, mental health and more).

For information on how to apply, please visit the conference website: <http://anniversary.joannabriggs.org/conference.html#conference>

Organized by Daniela Filipa Batista Cardoso (RN, Research grant holder at Portugal Centre for Evidence Based Practice: a Collaborating Centre of the Joanna Briggs Institute/UICISA: E)
